

manroland Goss Group Focuses on Customer-Oriented Solutions at Print 2018

The newly-merged company will share commitment to united excellence in web-fed printing, mailroom, & finishing solutions with clear global advantages

With a joint reputation as leaders in web-fed printing, the recently combined manroland Goss web systems, the merged company of manroland web systems and Goss International, will be exhibiting at Print 2018 Booth #841 in Chicago from September 30 to October 2, 2018. While there, the mission of manroland Goss Group to serve the market will be communicated to the industry, with the company's promise to deliver even greater value to stakeholders, equipment owners, and global print markets.

The increase in global presence and stability for the manroland Goss Group as a unified business entity has allowed the company to focus directly on the needs of customers. The combination of complementary competencies and joint use of the broad portfolio of equipment and patents opens the doors for creative innovations and developments in packaging, automation, process digitization, and e-commerce.

System Solutions

Highly automated press and post-press equipment create sustainable success for today's print operations. To insure the most effective levels of quality and waste reduction for customers, the manroland Goss Group is continuing to focus on the development and manufacturing of printing systems which support existing production needs and open the doors of possibility for new business models. System solutions from manroland Goss are supported by certified pre-owned solutions as well as existing press relocations.

Engineered Solutions

Throughout the portfolio of the manroland Goss Group, engineering breakthroughs continue to be a central point of concentration. The focus on utilizing the combined expertise of the team of talented engineers provides mechanical, automation, and closed-loop solutions for all types and all brands of web presses. Innovatively engineered components and system improvements answers the direct need from customers to develop more powerful production centers within existing pressrooms.

Service Solutions

With its increased presence of international service hubs spanning the globe, the manroland Goss merger has created an even tighter net of comprehensive support for its customers. The motivation to continue to develop services is to provide the highest level of excellence through accurate and efficient service, competitive pricing for parts and labor, comprehensive remote tools and TeleSupport, and service agreements to increase uptime on a 24/365 basis.

The manroland Goss Group is the leading supplier of web-offset printing solutions: System Solutions for highly automated press and post-press equipment, Engineered Solutions for mechanical, automation and closed-loop upgrades for all types of presses, Service Solutions for parts and labor, tele-support and service level agreements 24/365, and E-commerce Solutions for all suppliers to the web offset industry and beyond.
